

new Conference

Conference calling without worries

Your agenda is packed. This morning you are expected for a meeting downtown, at 2.00pm you have the financial meeting 150 km south and at the end of the day you should join a session at the office. In fact you are traveling half a day. NewConference is a professional and efficient solution that saves a lot of time and money

Anytime, anyplace

With newConference you can always start a conference call with colleges or business partners. Reservations are not required. You don't need special software or complicated hardware and you can use it everywhere. At home, on the road or at the office.

Simple to use

The use of newConference is really simple. You agree on a time and a conference code with the other participants. At the agreed time, everyone calls newConference and enters the conference code. That's all!

Sometimes the subject of your meeting is very important. NewConference allows you to record your conference call without charges. Your recording will be very helpful if minutes have to be worked out as well.

Smart and simple

Do you understand why the organisation of a conference call is so complicated? Newconference proves for many years that it can be done different as well. Making a conference call with newConference is as simple as making a regular phone call. With four professional products we match practically every case in business.
